Sources of Financial Support

The estimated minimum costs required to attend the University of Louisiana at Monroe full time for one academic year (9 months) covers tuition and fees, non-resident fees, housing and meals, international insurance, and other expenses (books, transportation, entertainment, etc.). This is NOT an actual bill, only an estimate:

	Undergraduate	Graduate
Tuition and Fees	$9,482	$10,200
Non-Resident Fee	$12,100	$12,100
Room and Board	$7,855	$7,855
Other (books, ins, etc.)	$3,341	$4,215
Total	$32,778 USD	$34,370 USD

Please Note: Fees are subject to change. Estimated cost does not allow for summer or winter mini-session expenses since registration during mini-sessions is not required. Program-specific fees and electronic course fees are not calculated in the estimates above.

From the options below, please check all applicable forms of financial support you will receive. Any accompanying documentation, such as a bank statement or funding letter, must be less than six months old at the time of submission.

I understand that I must have the minimum amounts available to cover all expenses listed on the form I-20, and I verify that the minimum amounts for subsequent terms of enrollment will be available each year of my studies. I understand that falsification of supporting financial documents or providing misleading information on the Statement of Financial Backing will be cause for my denial of admission to the University of Louisiana at Monroe.
