

Cognitive Processing Therapy Workshop

March 6th &
7th, 2008
ULM
Conference Center

Workshop Leaders:

Dr. Tara Galovski, Ph.D. Assistant Research Professor & Clinical Director, Center for Trauma Recovery, Department of Psychology, University of Missouri-St. Louis.

Dr. Greer Richardson, M.D. Assistant Clinical Professor, Department of Psychiatry, Yale University, and National Trainer for Cognitive Processing Therapy for Posttraumatic Stress Disorder.

This workshop is designed to teach clinicians and practitioners Cognitive Processing Therapy (CPT), a 12-week treatment protocol that combines

Cognitive and Exposure therapies for the treatment of Posttraumatic Stress Disorder (PTSD). CPT has accumulated empirical support in a variety of trauma populations including, but not limited to, female and male survivors of interpersonal assault, combat veterans, survivors of terrorist attacks, and motor vehicle accident survivors. The strong empirical results found in the support of CPT have been replicated across sites and investigators, and, indeed, internationally. Participants in this two-day workshop can expect to become very knowledgeable about the delivery of CPT to survivors of trauma. Register now, space is limited.
