The ESL Program

- Complete four classes:
Linguistics, Speech Language Pathology, Curriculum Design for the Multicultural Classroom, and Secondary Language Acquisition
- You can later apply these graduate level classes toward a M.Ed. in ESL (100% online)
- You are not required to know or learn a new language
- Gain the skills to assist students whose primary language is not English
- Study the relationship of language acquisition to social and cognitive development
- Learn how to assist students by showing them distinctive sound patterns and grammatical systems of American English
- Develop practical approaches and techniques for teaching ESL
- Learn to adapt curricula for students of all educational levels: elementary, secondary, and adult education
- Serve as a cultural informant for your coworkers and school administrators
