CURRENT POSITION

University of Louisiana at Monroe, 1989 – present
Monroe, Louisiana

Director of Graduate Studies for CEHD: 2008– present
Full Professor of Psychology: 1998 – present
Associate Professor of Psychology: 1995 – 1998
Assistant Professor of Psychology: 1989 – 1995

Primary courses:

Neuropsychology (graduate), Physiological Psychology, Positive Psychology, Health Psychology, Evolutionary Psychology, Introductory Psychology.

Additional courses:

Developmental Psychology (lifespan and child), History and Systems, Statistics, Abnormal Psychology, Child/Adolescent Psychology, Current Issues in Substance Abuse Counseling, Directed Study (graduate/undergraduate independent research).

New courses developed and taught:

Graduate Seminar Course: Evolution of Brain and Behavior. A critical assessment of human evolution and the ramifications for understanding human behavior.

Honors Seminar Course: Origins of Human Behavior. An investigation of proximate and ultimate causes of behavior in humans (Spring Semester, 1995).

Evolutionary Psychology. Undergraduate psychology students are given an overview of the field of Evolutionary Psychology.

PREVIOUS POSITIONS

Louisiana Tech University, 2002 – 2003

Ruston, Louisiana

Adjunct Professor, Psychology Graduate Program

Taught neuropsychology.

Willamette University, 2000 - 2001

Salem, Oregon

Visiting Professor of Psychology, Psychology Department

Taught physiological psychology and evolutionary psychology.

University of Georgia, 1985 – 1989

Athens, Georgia

Psychology Instructor, Summer 1989

Taught Introductory Psychology.

University-wide Assistantship, 1988 - 1989: Honors Fellowship awarded to outstanding graduate students to pursue original independent research. Investigated linguistic and ontogenetic influences on concept formation in children (resulted in doctoral dissertation).

Psychology Teaching Assistantship, 1987 - 1988: Instructor for Introductory Psychology, Sensory Systems lab, and Behavior Analysis and Theory lab.

Psychology Research Assistantship, 1987: Investigation of social cognition in macaques under direction of Dr. Irwin Bernstein.

Psychology Research Assistantship, 1985 - 1987: Investigation of the conceptual behavior of squirrel monkeys under the direction of Dr. Roger K. Thomas, Department Head.

Athens Area Technical Institute, 1988 - 1989

Athens, Georgia

Psychology Instructor for nursing curriculum, emphasizing practical application.

Yerkes Primate Research Center Field Station, Emory University, 1987 - 1988

Lawrenceville, Georgia

Research Specialist: Under direction of Dr. Irwin Bernstein, investigated aggressive behavior in primates. Responsible for data collection, preliminary statistical analysis, and report writing.

Camilla and Albany Jr. High Schools

Camilla and Albany, Georgia

Math and Science Teacher, 1983-1985

CURRENT RESEARCH PROJECTS

1. Ongoing investigation of effect of rearing experiences (ontogeny) on adult psychological traits such as altruistic ideation and impulsivity. These variable ontogenetic outcomes are viewed as evolved mechanisms designed to enhance reproductive fitness in varying social environments.
2. Investigations into the neurological substrates of prosocial and antisocial ideation through the use of non-invasive techniques of cognitive fatigue.
3. Review of literature pertinent to evolutionary psychology for second book on this topic.
