Should you as a RENTER have insurance?

Unless you are sure your property is covered on another individuals' (your parent's or spouse) home owners insurance -- MOST DEFINITELY YES!

Do not assume that the landlord's insurance covers your personal belongings, because more than likely it does not. Your landlord probably has insurance that covers the building only. The landlord's policy does not cover your liability to others (some one else's injury or damage for which you may be held responsible).

What Does Standard Renters' Insurance Cover?

Renters' insurance covers personal belongings for their actual cash value at the time of the loss. However, there is limited coverage for furs, jewelry, monies, fine arts and other specific valuables. These special items may be covered under a special addition to your renters policy or under a separate policy. The renters policy usually insures your household contents and personal belongings against losses from:

- fire and lightning
- falling objects
- vandalism
- riot/civil commotion
- windstorm
- explosion
- weight of snow, ice and sleet
- vehicles
- smoke
- theft
- aircraft

- volcanic eruption
  - sudden and accidental tearing apart, cracking, burning or bulging of a steam or hot water system or of appliances for heating water.
  - freezing of plumbing, heating and air conditioning systems and domestic appliances.
- accidental discharge, leaking or overflow of water or steam from within a plumbing, heating, air conditioning system or domestic appliances. ("Rising water" is not covered. Separate flood insurance must be purchased for this purpose.)

March Non-Traditional Student of the Month

Deanna is a senior majoring in General Studies. She is married to Blake Buchanan, and they live here in Monroe. Deanna is a two year member of the ULM Warbonnets where she is currently an officer.

“Deanna is extremely dedicated and works very hard. She is a great dancer and strives to help others. This is why she was selected as an officer for the ULM Warbonnets. She will be greatly missed next year,” said Mrs. Armstrong.

Deanna also private coaches young ladies who are auditioning for high school dance teams. “She truly loves what she does and wants other young ladies to have the opportunity to be a part of a team,” said Mrs. Armstrong.

Deanna has always been involved in church activities. She was a member of the youth group at Loch Arbor Baptist before her marriage and now attends First Baptist of West Monroe with her husband, Blake. Blake is the lead singer for Waiting for Isaac, a local Christian band, and Deanna often travels on her free weekends to support the band at competitions and gigs.

Congratulations to Deanna! She will receive dinner for 4 at BBQ West.
