ON THE DAY OF THE TEST

Examinees are required to present two forms of valid ID to be admitted to the test. Please refer to www.collegeboard.com/clep for more information. The testing facility does not have a waiting area designated for anyone accompanying a CLEP examinee. Therefore, those individuals accompanying an examinee to the examination must make arrangements to wait for the examinee elsewhere (this includes children). Testing personnel cannot be responsible for the safety and protection of other individuals.

CALCULATOR POLICY

Calculator functions are provided within the delivery of the examination for subjects that permit the use of one. Educational Testing Service and College Board provide the policies for the use of calculators. Please refer to www.collegeboard.com/clep for more information.

CLEP PASSING SCORE INFORMATION

The passing scores for CLEP examinations are listed with the exams. Course credit is awarded for CLEP examinations and appears on transcripts. Courses passed by examination count toward graduation. However, no letter grade will be awarded and the grade will not be calculated in your total grade point average. If a passing score is earned, the University Registrar will enter the credit earned on the transcript as equivalent to the appropriate ULM course. Credit will be awarded to prospective ULM students only after they have enrolled at ULM. Universities awarding credit based on CLEP examinations have the right to set their own passing scores.

If you pass a CLEP subject examination for a course you are taking at ULM, you may (1) stay in the course and get the grade earned in class or (2) drop the course and receive credit by examination. If you drop the course to receive credit by examination, it must be dropped with a "W" by the official ULM catalog final day for dropping a subject for that semester or summer session. If the subject examination passed covers two courses, including a course you are taking, you may finish the course to earn a letter grade and quality points, and still receive credit by examination for the course you have not taken.

Your student copy of the score report will be printed and given to you immediately following the examination.

NOTE: Credit earned by exam does not count toward hours earned for the Louisiana TOPS Program.

CLEP RETEST POLICY

The College Board provides the retest policy for the College Level Examination Program. A failed test may be repeated no sooner than six months after the initial date of the examination. Credit cannot be granted for any examination repeated before a six-month period has elapsed. Please refer to www.collegeboard.com/clep for more information.
