

University of Louisiana at Monroe and Linda Noe Laine

proudly present

Géza Vermes
EMINENT SCHOLAR

speaking on

“THE HISTORICAL JESUS”

Thursday, September 24, 2009
7:00-8:00 p.m.

Biedenharn Recital Hall

FREE LECTURE OPEN TO THE PUBLIC

*Seating is limited for this non-ticketed event.
Reception and book signing immediately following lecture.*

For more information:

318-342-3689 or ldaniel@ulm.edu

Professor Vermes is best known as publisher of the first English translation of the Dead Sea Scrolls, and many believe him to be, “the greatest Jesus scholar of his generation.” Vermes was born a Jew, converted to Christianity, became a Catholic priest, and then 20 years later, re-affirmed himself as a Jew. Vermes taught at Oxford University in England and is now Professor Emeritus of Jewish Studies and Emeritus Fellow for Wolfson College, Oxford. His best known works are Jesus the Jew, The Complete Dead Sea Scrolls in English, and The Resurrection.

