

SCHOOL OF EDUCATION

ulm.edu/education

TEACHING.....

Teaching is the journey of a lifetime, changing lives one at a time. If you like to work with children and young adults, then you may want to learn more about the Elementary and Secondary Education programs at ULM. Our programs are accredited by the National Council for the Accreditation of Teacher Education (NCATE) and the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools Commission on Colleges (SACSCOC).

CARRER OPPORTUNITIES

- Elementary, Middle School & High School Teacher
- Choir or Band Director & Teacher
- Curriculum Specialist
- Early Interventionist
- Content Teacher subject areas: English, Language Arts, Science, Mathematics, & more
- Educational Diagnostician
- Instructional Designer
- Foreign Language or English as a Second Language (ESL) Teacher
- Reading Specialist
- Special Educator
- Administrator, Principal, & Superintendent

DEGREE OPTIONS

Bachelor of Arts or Sciences in Elementary & Secondary Education

Master of Education in Curriculum and Instruction (Online)

- Elementary or Secondary
- Special Education Mild/Moderate
- Education Diagnostics
- Academically Gifted
- Early Intervention
- Early Childhood
- Reading

Master in Educational Technology Leadership, non P-12 (Online)

Masters in Educational Leadership (Online)

Master of Arts in Teaching (Online)

Doctorate in Curriculum and Instruction (Online)

Doctorate in Curriculum and Instruction Health Professions Education(Online)

+30 Programs and Book Studies through eTEACH

Add-On Certifications (Online)

