University of Louisiana Monroe

Safety Policy Statement

The University of Louisiana Monroe is dedicated to maintaining a safe and healthy academic and work environment for faculty, staff, students, and visitors. To support this commitment, ULM has implemented a comprehensive Environmental Health and Safety Program aimed at fostering a secure and health-conscious atmosphere for teaching, learning, and daily operations.

Safety is a shared responsibility across the entire campus community. While leadership plays a pivotal role in promoting safety initiatives, all employees and students are expected to work collectively to uphold the standards and practices outlined in the Safety Program. Active participation helps cultivate a culture that values awareness and accountability in every area of responsibility.

This proactive approach extends to all facets of university life—education, research, student services, public engagement, and internal and external relations. The goal is to prevent injury, illness, and property damage by integrating safety into daily decisions and actions.

Maintaining a hazard-free environment depends on teamwork, personal responsibility, and ongoing commitment from every member of the University community. All personnel are encouraged to lead by example and contribute to a campus culture where safety is second nature.

Questions regarding this policy or its implementation should be directed to ULM's Environmental Health and Safety Officer.
